FUTURITY EVALUATIONS FOR YOUNG SPORT HORSES AND PONIES

Sponsored by Baileys Horse Feeds,
the British Equestrian Federation's (BEF)
Futurity returns for 2010
with new venues in new regions.

WHAT IS THE FUTURITY?

A series of evaluations for young potential sport horses and ponies from foals to three years destined for careers in dressage, eventing, showjumping and endurance.

The Futurity seeks to identify elite horses for the World Class Equine Pathway as well as helping breeders to impartially evaluate the youngstock they are producing.

The Futurity is an evaluation, as distinct from a show. Horses are scored on how they meet set criteria for the discipline they have entered – in other words, their performance potential.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Owners and breeders bring their youngsters to a centre in their region where they will be seen in hand by a vet and then seen loose in a safe indoor environment so that they show themselves to the best of their ability.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

You take home a detailed scoresheet of comments and advisory notes on your youngster and an attractive certificate to mount and frame. There are special diploma rosettes for all entries and you can use your youngster's results to add value and act as a sales tool!

HOW DO I FIND OUT MORE?

Factsheets on every aspect of the Futurity are available from www.bef.co.uk on the Futurity page. You can also email or call us using the details at the end of this leaflet.

WHEN ARE THE EVALUATIONS?

The dates and venues feature below. There will be a maximum capacity of 65 horses at each venue.

HOW DO I ENTER?

You will be able to enter online from 1 June 2010, see www.bef.co.uk for details.
